We lovingly dedicate
THE 1959
ALBERTONIAN

Our Senior year was marked by the beginning of the reign of Pope John XXIII. Born of poor parents in a little village called Sotto Il Monte, Angelo Guiseppi Roncalli had decided to become a priest by his eleventh birthday. Now, nearing his 77th birthday, he has been chosen Pope. The love and affection he bears his subjects is clearly evident by his desire to be "fully a Pastor."

Pope John XXIII's rigorous activities thus far are only the beginning of beneficial religious leadership for Catholics and the whole world.

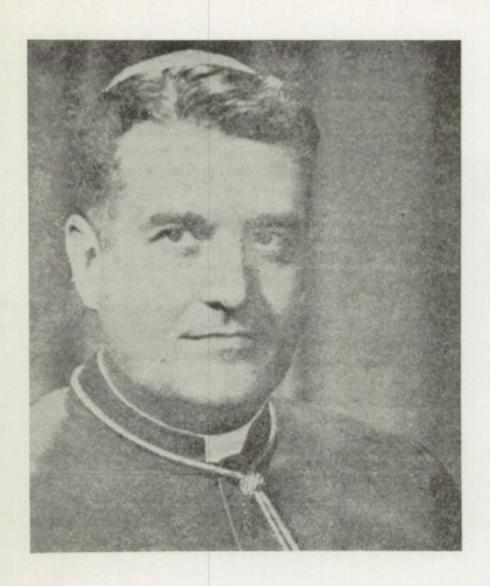

Pope Pius XII's nineteen-year reign came to an abrupt end with his death on October 9, 1958. Albertonians joined the world in mourning the beloved pontiff whose desire for world peace and love for all mankind will live forever.

Born in Rome in 1876, Eugenio Pacelli was elected Pope 63 years later. He saw more destruction and human barbarism than perhaps any other Pope. He saw the rise of Fascism, Nazism, and Communism, two world wars, the advent of the atomic age, unrest and change in the Soviet bloc and in the Suez crisis. His concern for world affairs did not hinder his interest in education and youth.

Pope Pius XII was the only Pope we knew; his reign spanned our lifetime. We will not soon forget the man who said, "My mission is peace. The only weapon I carry is the cross."

A new spiritual leader took his place in the hearts of Albertonians when His Excellency, John J. Wright, became the eighth Bishop of Pittsburgh and successor to Archbishop Dearden.

The new Bishop, a native of Boston, studied in Rome. After returning to the United States, his career steadily rose, and in 1950 he became the country's youngest Catholic bishop to head a diocese.

His intense interest in education in the past assures us that he will continue the splendid work of his predecessor.

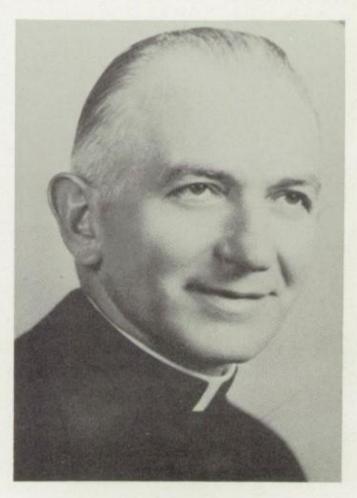

SHEPHERD OF THE PITTSBURGH DIOCESE

The Most Rev. John F. Dearden, Archbishop of Detroit and former Bishop of Pittsburgh, will long be remembered for his profound interest in Catholic education. Under his guidance and care, the Pittsburgh Diocese schools flourished. He led an impressive building program in which millions of dollars worth of schools were erected, including our own auditorium-gymnasium. His leadership was most evident in religious activities, however, as his priestly interest extended to the welfare of souls.

OUR LOCAL SHEPHERDS

REV. LADISLAUS ROKOSZ Pastor of St. Adalbert Parish

The guidance and untiring efforts of our Pastor and his Assistants have enriched us spiritually with an understanding and appreciation of Christian life principles and ideals. Materially, their endurance has resulted in the new auditorium-gymnasium. For all their services and sacrifices we say our heartfelt thank you.

REV. STANLEY ZACHEWICZ
Assistant Pastor
Junior Athletics, Holy Name Moderator

Rev. FRANCIS NAZIMEK
Assistant Pastor
Senior Athletics, Sodality Moderator

A true friend of the students, Sister Chrysostom has labored untiringly for our betterment. Fond memories of our close association for three years will linger long after we leave school for strange surroundings.

Our faculty has endeavored to instill true Christian virtue by example and teaching. May their painstaking efforts be rewarded by the fulfillment of their hopes for us.

LIFE

OUR SPIRITUAL POWER HOUSE

Pittsburgh's greatness is due to the abundance of natural resources with which a provident God has generously endowed it. Deprived of these, it would degenerate into a ghost town unable to provide its inhabitants with the material needs for subsistence.

In the spiritual order, the holy sacrifice of Mass is the storehouse of treasures for a greatness that does not pass with time. Aware of the excellence of this supreme act of worship, we daily hasten to participate in the sacrifice thereby hoping to give substance to the lessons learned in the classroom and by daily experiences.

In the problems of the days ahead may we remember to aid ourselves by the fruits of a Mass devoutly offered.

ITE DOCETE OMNES GENTES

Faithful to the divine commission, "Go and teach all nations," our teaching staff composed of Priests and Sisters is doing its utmost to give us a truly Christian education wherein the complete man is trained. This motto, too, stands as a daily reminder of our responsibility to further the kingdom of God on earth by our example of a life lived in accord with the teachings of Christ.

Students avail themselves of the throat blessing on the feast of St. Blaise.

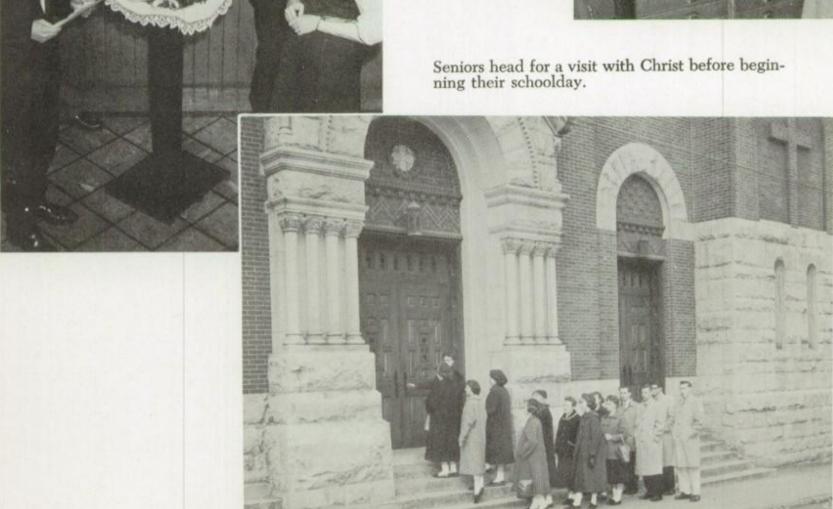

Class presidents begin each day of Advent with prayers and lighting of the Advent candles.

RELIGIOUS

Caring for the

To make religious instruction more meaningful, Father Nazimek displays sacred vessels and vestments to interested students.

ACTIVITIES

Spiritual Man

The church resounds with the musical praise offered to the Lord during Forty Hours.

The First Friday finds the student body flocking to the Eucharistic banquet.

Adalbertans seek God's grace and strength in the sacrament of Penance.

Sister Pulcheria instructs Seniors in their religion with the aid of Mass cards and books.

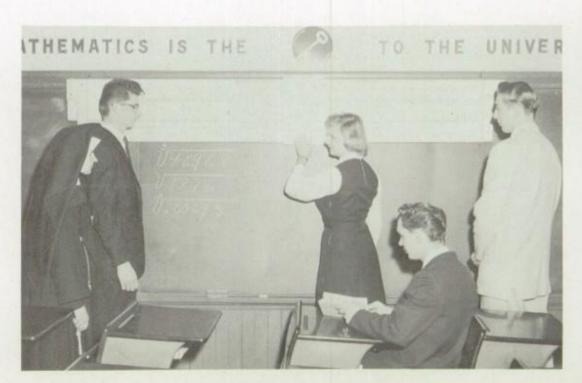

Discussing economic conditions, Seniors present their own view point on national problems.

CLASSROOM

Nuturing the Commercial students await the beginning of another shorthand class.

Trigonometry students welcome the use of the slide rule in answering their problems.

English enthusiasts explain the various parts of a sentence by the use of diagrams.

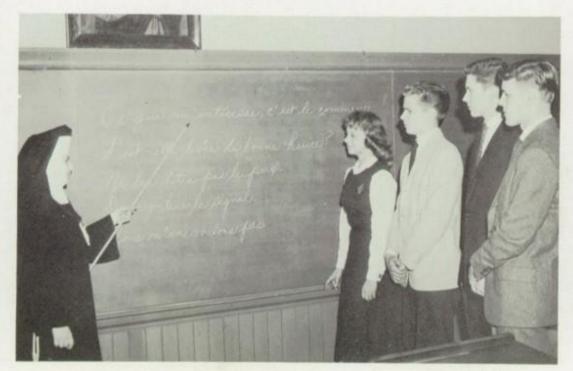

Observing the rule of silence, Seniors occupy their time with studies.

SESSIONS

Intellectual Man

Charlotte Lakomy, Lorraine Cichowicz, Ronald Kopydlowski and Evelyn Gmys demonstrate their typing skill as Sister Rita supervises the class.

Sister Jerome patiently assists the French students in overcoming their difficulties with the language.

This year the Student Council is composed of the following members; Lorraine Mielcarek, Pat Mocello, John Kaczorowski, Marianne Nipar, LaVerne Klawinski, Elaine Nogal, Edna Biedrzycki, Jane Hobowski, Judith Filip, Evelyn Gmys, Richard McConaha, David Radzanowski, Lorraine Cichowicz, Carol Staszewski, Jack Lech, Barbara Sokol, Jeannine Brennen, Paul Fedak, Carol Whalen William, Szymkowiak, Ronald Bartus.

With a full understanding of the purpose of a Student Council, members meet regularly to set the standards for the school.

HONOR SOCIETIES

Encouraging Scholarship

Members back the purpose of the Mission Day poster as part of their work in the Mission Honor Society.

Demonstrating their scientific skill, Science Honor members exercise their ability through experiments.

Algebra comes easy to St. Adalbert's math geniuses.

Business-minded students enjoy using the IBM typewriter and the adding machine.

The library proves to be useful to the Writers Club representatives.

Representatives of the History Honor Society discuss plans for participation in a history contest.

John Kaczorowski delivers an oral report on the French language as other members listen attentively.

SCHOOL CLUBS

Science Club officers prove that through experiments, statistical reports, and discussions can an understanding of life be achieved.

Pat Mocello, Maryann Wozniak, Arlene Zola and Donald Staszewski undertake the responsibilities of operating the school library.

Glee Club leaders, Carol Staszewski, Chris Basilone, Cecilia Muszynski and Mary Ciganik complete preparations for the annual Christmas Cantata.

School journalists add the finishing touch to the production of the Adalbertan for distribution and exchange with other schools.

Training for Leadership

Fatima Club officers encourage greater devotion to the Blessed Mother through their own example.

The yearbook staff, under the direction of Marianne Nipar, examine the financial standing of the Albertonian.

First string smiles happily after one of the few victories of the season.

SCHOOL

Developing the

Sports at St. A's serve a multifold purpose. In addition to developing physical fitness, they provide opportunity for social contacts and occasion for the practice of Christian virtues embraced by good sportsmanship. These are gains that come even without a victory in the game.

Members of the Girls' Varsity set out for the big game with St. Mary's in Sharpsburg.

Junior Varsity and Varsity assemble for the game to be played with St. Michael's.

Sue Ciganik's final hook shot brings victory to the Acettes.

All girl officers lead the Freshmen: Carol Whalen, president; Edna Biedrzycki, vice-president; Donna Solarczyk, secretary; Judy Wesolowski, treasurer.

New to the busy high school world Freshmen nevertheless endeavor to learn to translate first year Latin.

Freshmen boys enjoy their gym period in the new auditorium. Here six boys form a pyramid.

VALIANT FRESHMEN

Enjoying the Novelty

Aware of the role education plays in preparation for life, we are grateful for the chance given us to spend our high school days in a Catholic institution where the spiritual helps of religion are ours to use in developing ourselves to become responsible citizens of our democracy, leaders in church activity, future saints in God's kingdom.

With rapt attention Freshmen listen as Thomas Miskiewicz discusses points of interest in History of Pennsylvania.

Sister Simplicia, the girls' physical ed instructor gives them a strenuous workout.

Sister Anselma, freshmen homeroom teacher, helps her algebra students solve for X + Y.

Freshmen girls prepare for reception into the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin.

General science students learn much from Sister Pulcheria and are appreciative of the experiments they are permitted to perform.
